"Regional Anesthesia - Clinical Update and Review"

I've lived in the lower mainland since high school and spent a long time at UBC. I completed my BSc (2001), PhD (2005), MD (2010) and residency in anesthesia in 2015 and I worked as a staff anesthesiologist last year at Vancouver General Hospital. Currently I am the regional anesthesia fellow at St. Paul's Hospital, gaining experience in peripheral nerve blocks and pain medicine. My goals are to take this knowledge back to VGH next year to add to their current regional anesthesia program.

More importantly, I'm married to an OB/GYN staff at Peace Arch Hospital in White Rock and we currently have two boys aged 7 and 1.

"Perioperative Smoking Cessation, Let's Seize the Teachable Moment!"

Originally from Kamloops BC, I studied medicine at the University of Calgary and completed my residency in anesthesiology at Dalhousie University in Halifax, NS. Keen to get a little closer to home I returned to Vancouver to complete a fellowship in Regional Anesthesia at St. Paul's Hospital in 2012.

I currently practice as an Anesthesiologist at St. Paul's, and am active in the regional anesthesia and perioperative medicine groups, as well as in medical education of residents and fellows.

Outside of the hospital I am an avid cyclist, and my family and I love to get out of the city and into nature as often as possible at a beach, hiking trail or campsite.
